Padaste Manor - a small luxury resort & spa with superb restaurant Alexander

Alexander Restaurant occupies the most prominent space on the ground floor of the Manor House. The gloriously proportioned, elegant room with high ceilings opens into a spectacular winter garden and offers sweeping views over the park with its ancient trees. The team at Alexander is proud to serve innovative Nordic Islands' Cuisine, Diners at restaurant respecting the seasons and making maximum use of fresh local ingredients by working with the island's producers and farmers, while many of the greens and herbs are grown in Pädaste's own gardens and green houses. Offers an arresting culinary combination of urban sophistication and whole some country side traditions.

Padaste Manor

Muhu island, Estonia

The origins of the manor go back to the 14th century, some of these ancient walls are still visible at the very heart of the house. In the latter part of the 19th century the house was enlarged considerably and given a new façade, hence the harmonious dimensions and clean lines which give the house its character today. The buildings that frame the court yard were erected between 1870 and 1890, a period in which the German-Baltic nobles enjoyed great wealth.

After years of neglect during the Soviet period in which the use of the manor alternated between army headquarter, fish distribution center and home for the elderly until its abandonment in the early 80's, the owners took up the endeavor in 1996 to restore Pädaste Manor to new splendour, with the goal to create one of the finest hotels in the Baltic countryside. The shoreline gives way to astonishing views of the bay with its islets and untouched coastland. A variety of grasses, ferns, wild flowers, berries, brushes, orchids, pine, birch and our 'national' tree the juniper, paint the landscape of Pädaste Bay. Alexander Restaurant occupies the most prominent space on the ground floor of the Manor House.

The boutique size and the location of the estate makes Padaste an excellent venue for a bespoke event in complete privacy. Exclusive Use at Pädaste Manor guarantees total privacy and security for any of the guests with the hotel, park, restaurants, lounge areas and all facilities being exclusively available to you and your guests and closed to non-residents. Exclusive use gives the maximum freedom to tailor the event fully to your wishes. Muhu Island is a true place of retreat. At the same time there is a lot to enjoy. Nature walks; Horseback riding and Fishing trips to name a few. Pädaste take great pride to offer you individual outings that are truly special.
